1 GENERAL

1.1 Waste in these general terms and conditions (hereinafter "General Terms and Conditions") shall mean ordinary waste and hazardous waste (hereinafter collectively "Waste"), as de-fined in applicable legislation in force.

1.2 These General Terms and Conditions will apply to all services concerning Waste delivery and treatment performed by Ekokem Corporation and its affiliated companies (hereinafter collectively "Fortum") to the buyer of these services (hereinafter the "Customer") unless otherwise specifically agreed between the parties in writing. Any terms departing from these General Terms and Conditions indicated in an order placed by the Customer or otherwise will be binding on Fortum only if specifically approved by Fortum in writing.

1.3 The services delivered by Fortum to the Customer will be defined in writing in the order confirmation issued by Fortum in response to an order placed by the Customer, in a separate agreement or in the movement/transport document. Follow-up orders or new orders may be placed by telephone or email based on an earlier written agreement subject to unchanged conditions. Minimum response time for Fortum is five (5) days for pickups and deliveries.

1.4 Fortum will be liable for securing that it has all permits required for performance of the services and that it meets the required statutory qualifications. Fortum undertakes to perform the services in a professional manner in compliance with its environmental permits and regulatory requirements.

1.5 In addition to the General Terms and Conditions for the provision of services, the Regulation (EC) N:o 1013/2006 of the European parliament and of the Council on shipments of waste and the Basel convention on the control of transboundary movements of hazardous wastes and their disposal and provisions adopted on its basis, will apply to international shipments.

A) WASTE TREATMENT SERVICES

2 TRANSPORT AND RECEPTION OF WASTE

2.1 If the Customer delivers Waste to Fortum, the Waste shall be delivered to the place of delivery indicated by Fortum (de-livery term DDP INCOTERMS 2010) at the receiving times indicated by Fortum. The Customer must prepare a movement/transport document conforming to the applicable regulations for each shipment of Waste. Unless otherwise agreed, each shipment is weighed at Fortum's receiving point and a weighing certificate will be issued to the Customer. Fortum's waste consignment/declaration number must be indicated on the packages in addition to the regulatory markings.

2.2 If Fortum collects the Customer's Waste from a place indicated by the latter, the delivery term used is FCA INCOTERMS 2010.

2.3 The Customer is obligated to inform Fortum of the estimated amount of Waste in each shipment including accurate data on the composition and detrimental or hazardous proper-ties of the Waste prior to the commencement of the service.

2.4 Fortum has the right to refuse reception of the delivery for a compelling reason. The following reasons, inter alia, are regarded as compelling:

- the data provided on the Waste is inaccurate or incomplete and the Waste cannot, in Fortum's considered view, be treated safely in compliance with the law and regulatory requirements at Fortum's facility.

- the Customer has any unpaid payments to Fortum or the payment has been cancelled for reorganization, liquidation or other insolvency

- the delivery is not packaged and marked in accordance with the applicable regulations. Alternatively, Fortum may rectify the flaws in packaging and markings on behalf of the Customer and charge the cost from the Customer. The Customer is liable for any costs and damages incurred by Fortum as a result of any incomplete or damaged packaging or missing markings.

2.5 Fortum will not assume liability for any Waste shipment until reception of the shipment is duly acknowledged by an entry in the movement/transport document or until Fortum has had the opportunity to check the amount and composition of the Waste at the receiving point. If after reception it appears that the data on the Waste given by the Customer are inaccurate and/or incomplete, Fortum is entitled to recover costs and damages that occurred due to the inaccurate and/or incomplete data given by the Customer.

3 SAMPLING AND PROCESSING OF THE WASTE

3.1 Upon the arrival of a shipment of Waste at the treatment facility, Fortum may, at its discretion, take samples from it and/or document possible quality deviations. If the results of the analysis and the data on the Waste provided by the Customer differ, the Customer will have the right to have the sample re-analyzed at its own cost by a duly approved research facility. If the result of the re-analysis commissioned by the Customer is within the margin of error of the analysis method used, the analysis result obtained by Fortum will prevail. Three (3) months from the delivery of each Waste shipment.

3.2 The weighing, inspection and potential sampling of the Waste shipment on receiving will not diminish the sender's and Customer's regulatory liability or responsibility for the accuracy and completeness of the data provided on the Waste.

3.3 Unless otherwise specifically agreed, any amount of Waste due for treatment indicated in the order or agreement is an estimate and not binding on Fortum. Fortum may, at any point, suspend reception of Waste without any liability for damages. The Customer must be notified of any such suspension as soon as possible, but no later than five (5) days in advance. Such suspension will apply to all Waste shipments not confirmed in writing and not dispatched to Fortum before the effective date of the suspension.

3.4 Upon completion of hazardous waste treatment Fortum will subject to a charge issue a treatment certificate at the Customer's request unless the waste treatment falls into the scope of the EU Regulation on shipments of waste (N:o 1013/2006), in which case the treatment certificate is given free of charge.

5.2 Fortum will be responsible for ensuring that, upon commencement of the rental period, the Containers bear the regulatory markings indicating any type approval and the service life required by law. The Customer will notify Fortum of the need to replace a Container, if the Customer detects that the stipulated service life of a Container is about to expire.

5.3 The Customer will be liable for any damage to the Containers (e.g. corrosion or other mechanical damage) as long as they remain in the Customer's possession. The Customer will not be liable for any normal wear and tear of the Containers. Any damaged Container must be returned by the Customer to Fortum for repair or treatment and exchange.

5.4 The Customer will be liable for ensuring that the rented Containers will only be used for the intended purpose and intended substance. As a dispatcher of hazardous materials, the Customer will be liable for ensuring that the classification and method of packaging of the hazardous substances and the condition and markings of the Container satisfy applicable regulatory requirements. Aside from the liquidated damages, the Customer will not be entitled to any other compensation for delay.
